What's New at East Pennsboro Branch Library?

Maryann Haft – East Pennsboro Branch Manager

The library is proudly showing its railroad roots. Highlighting Enola's railroading heritage, the library has installed an elevated railroad system in its newly dedicated Kiner's Korner children's room.

Feeling crafty? In addition to our monthly Chix with Stix, the library is having a DIY craft program in May. We are also "Digging into Reading" this year as we plan our summer reading program activities. And Mrs. B is here for spring story times.

You may have also noticed that the library is now offering blood pressure screening. Through a partnership with Holy Spirit Hospital, this service is available every second and fourth Tuesday of each month and is free.

This information is listed on the back, but for all of our information don't forget to check our website at www.eastpennsborobranch.org for the latest news and activities at East Pennsboro.

Happy Spring!

Thank You to All

A special thanks to everyone who climbed the stairs and visited the library while the elevator was out of service and thank you to everyone, including the township, for their help and support.

Welcome Aboard to Kiner's Korner!

Dedication Ceremony: Wednesday, March 20 at 6 pm

Kiner's Korner is a testimony to Bob and Thelma Kiner. As founding members and visionaries of the library, the Kiners strongly believed that a community library was essential; for over 20 years, they volunteered their time on Tuesday evenings, making children feel welcome and valued when visiting the library. Mr. Kiner was also a railroad enthusiast and a retired railroad employee.

After Mr. Kiner's death in September 2010, the library wanted to utilize monies donated in his memory in a way that would incorporate Enola's rich heritage while inspiring and entertaining young patrons. The library decided to honor the Kiners by renaming the children's room and installing an elevated O-gauge train along with other enhancements. To fully realize this project, the library partnered with the township and community supporters, as well as businesses and manufacturers that could assist with obtaining the model railway system and all that it entails. This is truly a partnership.

To celebrate Kiner's Korner, a dedication ceremony will be held at 6 pm on Wednesday, March 20, at the library. Following the dedication and ribbon cutting, light refreshments will be served. This event is open to everyone.

This project would not have been possible without the support of many. Thank you to the Kiners – who are an inspiration to all; Bachmann Williams for supplying the train (from engine to caboose) and track; Woody of Woody's Train Shop, who kept the inspiration alive; John Pietropaoli and East Pennsboro Township, especially Ron Scrignoli, Keith Laverty and Mike Myers, who created and installed the custom platform and bridges reflecting the community. Also thanks to Friends of East Pennsboro Library for hosting this event and Fredricksen Library for their support.

As this project continues to evolve, we encourage suggestions, donations and ideas that will help showcase Enola's rich railroading history, inspire and attract young (and old) patrons, and expand upon the vision that made East Pennsboro Branch Library a community gathering center.
